

AMARCORD Collection

Made in Spain

REACTIVE Glaze

Amarcord has been manufactured with a reactive glaze, which provides depth, brilliance and natural colour variations between pieces. Irregularities such as shading, clouding and micro speckles make every tile unique, enhancing the handcrafted character of the tile

INTENDED Use

Designed for vertical surfaces only. Not suitable for horizontal surfaces including floors or worktops / benches.

INSTALLATION Information

This collection is made to look handmade, hence there are slight dimensional differences between pieces (variable lengths and widths), which are part of the intended aesthetic. It is advised to adjust each one of the pieces during installation to allow for this variation in calibre.

During and after installation, avoid using abrasive pads, metal tools, or substances that may scratch the delicate, easily marked surface of these tiles

Due to the high gloss finish, you will find tiles with scratches in the boxes, and this is part of the look of this product - it cannot be avoided, however taking the precautions above during installation, will ensure only the superficial imperfections are visible

CLEANING Information

For routine cleaning, avoid aggressive detergents, such as bleach, ammonia and limescale removers. We recommend using a PH-neutral cleaner with a soft microfibre cloth

Please remove any protective wax with a soft cloth and warm water – do not use a scraper as this will scratch the surface

A minimum 2mm grout joint is required to compensate for the variations in calibre (size), and we recommend using the grout joint to compensate for any differences
